

Groundsman Flexblade Soil / Core Collectors

The Flexblade Core Collector is a patented implement developed by Groundsman Industries to simply and efficiently remove aeration soil from the green. This implement will save many hours of manual work or an extra operation with heavy cumbersome equipment. It collects cleanly and when used as an AERATOR attachment, over 60% of the cores enter the collector without touching the ground. The remainder are scooped cleanly from the surface without blocking the holes by a series of platelets which conform to the contours acting like shovels. Surface disruption is minimised and the greens are left clean ready for top dressing and play.

For Groundsman Aerators

For Other Aerators

For Turf Tractors

For Turf Utility Vehicles, Bunker Rakes, etc

The Flexblade follows contours with precision for a cleaner scoop. For more information see contact details below.
